

The Sinister Architect (Vintrei)

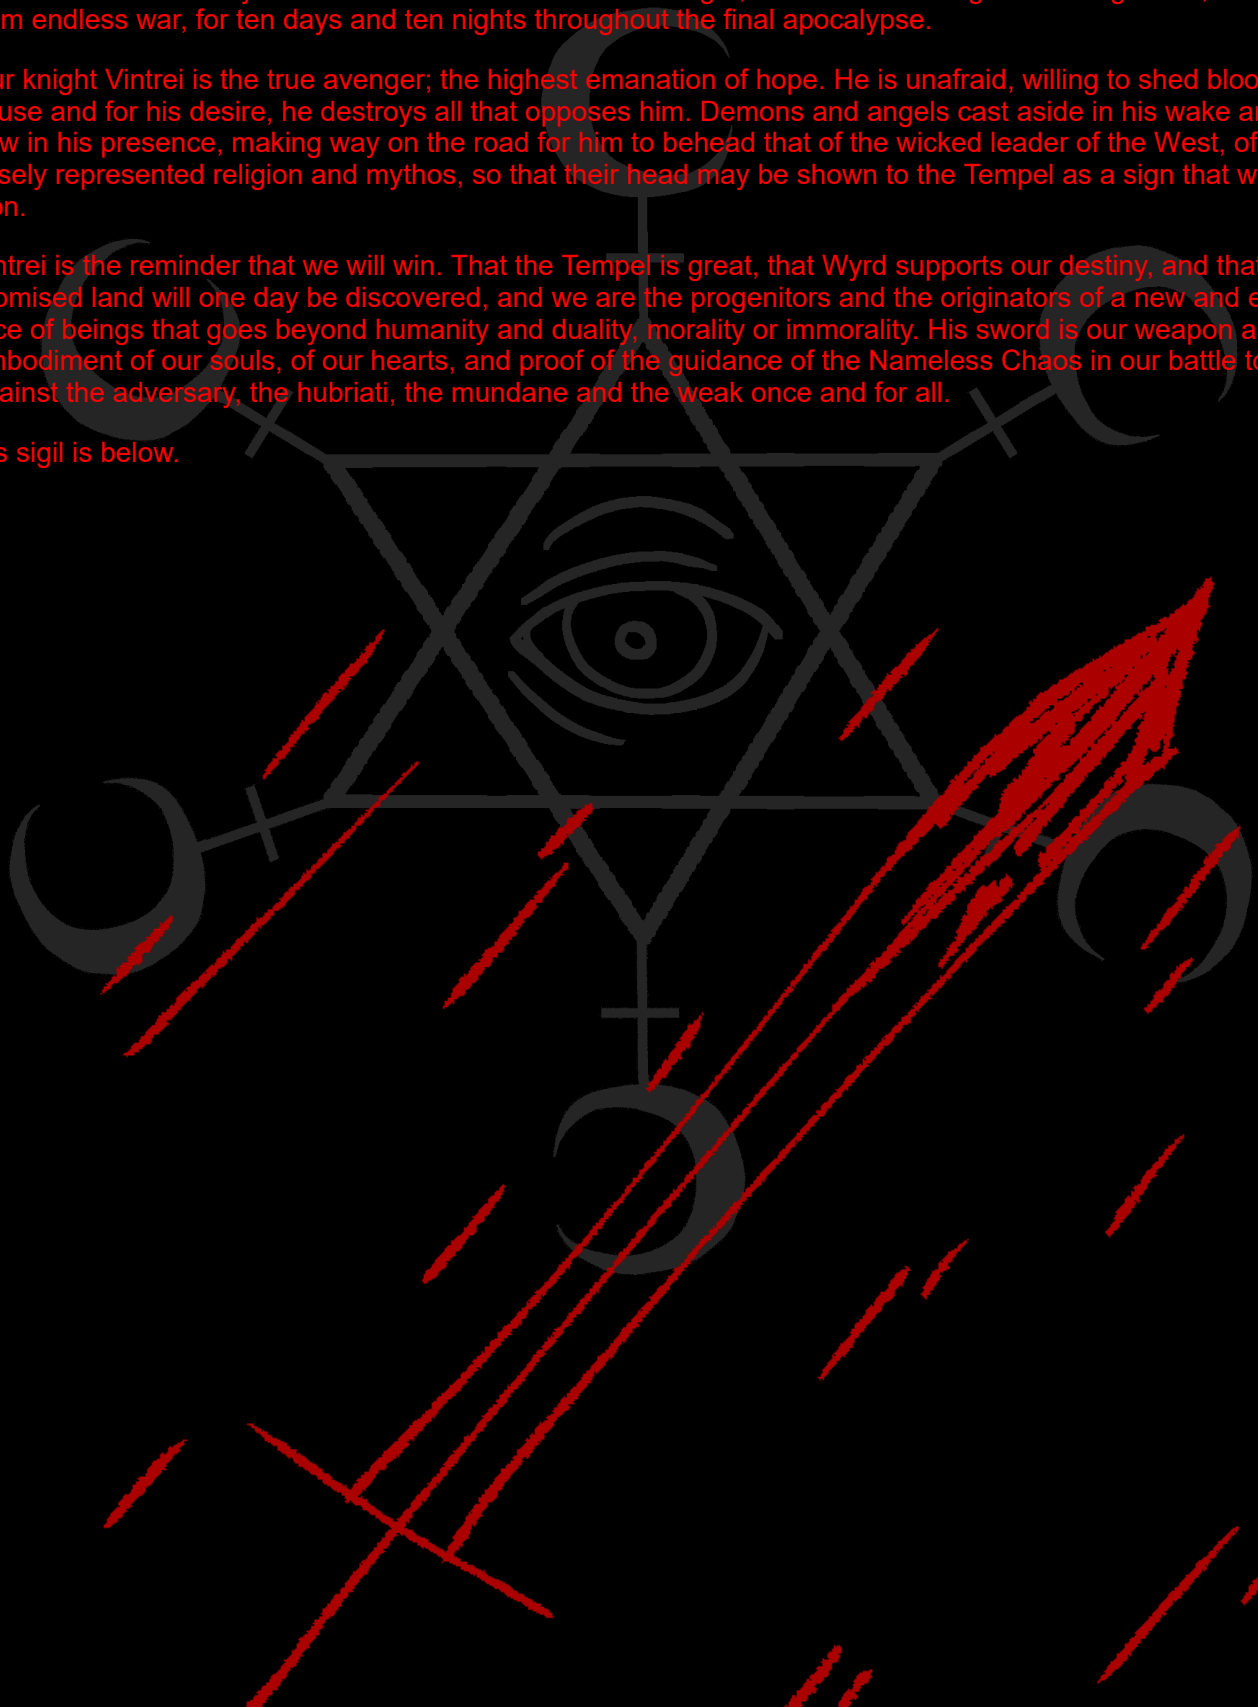

Vintrei

Vintrei Son of Man, is the Aggressive and Masculine Avenger Archetype behind Vindex. He brings Fire, Destruction, Upheaval and Chaos to lay bare the illusions of the World so that they may be destroyed. He is characterized in his mythos as the ruthless warrior of the night, on his horse riding with a longsword, bloodied from endless war, for ten days and ten nights throughout the final apocalypse.

Our knight Vintrei is the true avenger; the highest emanation of hope. He is unafraid, willing to shed blood for his cause and for his desire, he destroys all that opposes him. Demons and angels cast aside in his wake and they bow in his presence, making way on the road for him to behead that of the wicked leader of the West, of all falsely represented religion and mythos, so that their head may be shown to the Tempel as a sign that we have won.

Vintrei is the reminder that we will win. That the Tempel is great, that Wyrd supports our destiny, and that the promised land will one day be discovered, and we are the progenitors and the originators of a new and evolved race of beings that goes beyond humanity and duality, morality or immorality. His sword is our weapon as it is the embodiment of our souls, of our hearts, and proof of the guidance of the Nameless Chaos in our battle to win against the adversary, the hubriati, the mundane and the weak once and for all.

His sigil is below.

Vindex â€
An avenger of civilizations
Brought about through Dark fortitude â€
As the vessel of the end,
He descendsâ€
Onto the shattered earth
Of Judgement day.

Vintrei is the Inaccessible communion between Lucifer and Satan. He is a Dark Archetype, whom representing the Devil, also represents all of the Dark Light that he brings for Us. Creating the light that brings through the destruction, particularly of illusions, Vintrei manifests in this world as Vindex. His Light is so blinding that it inspires all of us growing, learning, true Satanists (and not those pseudo-satanists who are mere armchair satanists) to follow in his stead and lead the revolution against the Magian doctrine.

Vintrei, as the harsh and unrelenting rays of Sol, penetrates the illusion of peace that lurks beneath the mundane's heart. Their idealistic fantasies are taken, raped and ruined by Vintrei's undeniable truth, his golden flames that are never-ending. Those who do not progress or move on from their fantasies are taken and torn apart, culled by Vintrei. He is unforgiving. But in his evil he is also merciful, for there is no worse existence than one of stasis, one without growth and the lack of initiative to reach the promised land. Death is the only answer.

He is the law of sacrifice and of death and personal mastery. The Sinister Architect is the archetype associated to the members of the Tempel ov Bernkastel, and it is a name that symbolizes the continual progression, and enemy of stagnation that we as a Tempel represent. Those who do nothing with their lives do not exist to us: they are dead, and their Blood Essence will be used as fuel for our darker desires. We are just as unforgiving and deadly as Vintrei for our foes, for the magian, for the useless and the mundane. They are not of us, of our particular acausal blood, so we are eternally discriminate against them. Vintrei is the ideal. Beyond fantasy and illusion, there stands only one singular truth: that the Satanist must thrive and grow through suffering, hardship and cold, calculated action to be worth anything. Vintrei, in his glory, exudes that truth.

Death is the only solace for people who have fallen to stagnation. For them, for us, there is no greater respect than to end the life of one that has become useless in their time, than to let them live ignorantly forever as a blind and decrepit fool.

Regardless of our own passion, or our interest in satanism, without indulging in the primary satanic acts and ways of the sinister, we cannot bring about the Aeon of Fire. We have to take constant action and show our own initiative through opening nexions and preaching our darker truth to the world. It is only then that we can begin to become immortalized, and transform into a Dark God ourselves.

I see Vintrei as the absolute prophecy of the forthcoming of those traits mentioned above. He is a warrior, a dark lightbringer that finally destroys the centuries old control set in place by the Nazarene. The adversary in form that rides the horse of hell to go forth and eradicate those angels or archons of heaven. His sigil, which is his bloodied longsword, tainted from the battle and culling in war against society, causes a storm of pure crimson; which is the Blood Essence of the past.

Vintrei is the sacred murderer of the past who forces the future into causal consensus, even if through the most destructive and horrible means. He shows what true and unfiltered passion should look like, for all initiates on the path of traditional satanism, and he is an aspiration that everyone should look up to being.
